

BUKER MEDIA CENTER

MARCH 2019

Kindergarten and 1st grade are finishing up their digital books created on Book Creator. They loved recreating characters, setting and other elements using the app Felt Board and then creating pages with them in Book Creator. This helps them to learn basic use of digital tools to communicate information.

Students in the 2nd and 3rd grade are finishing up their president research project. Each student chose a president to research and have been creating a presentation in Google Slides. The objective of this unit is for the students to further develop research skills and to practice using digital tools to present information to others.

The 4th and 5th grade students have finished learning about citing sources and searching online. They have begun their president research project. They will use Book Creator to create their presentation. They are also further developing research skills and using technology to communicate information.
